SPACES WORLD ARTISTS PROGRAM

The SPACES World Artists Program (SWAP) is a residency program for international, U.S. and local artists, founded in 2002 to foster cultural exchange between audiences in Northeast Ohio and artists from around the world. SWAP residencies are intensive opportunities for experimental artists to produce and present new work, within the unique cultural context of a post-industrial city in the American Rustbelt.

SWAP artists create new, experimental works for the public during their residencies. SWAP looks for artists who are doing innovative work that has a strong conceptual center. This work can be in any media, object-based or social practice—installation, performance, sculpture, sound, video, multi-disciplinary, etc. SPACES helps facilitate the artist's vision, by assisting with locating materials, and introducing them to area artists, curators and community members. Each residency culminates with a public presentation of the new work, and a video catalogue of their work, including commentary from a respected critic.

SWAP provides travel and housing for non-local residents, and studio space, materials, publicity and an honorarium for each resident. Residencies range in length from 2 weeks to 2 months, depending on the scope of work created during the residency.

Please visit www.SPACESgallery.org/about/#swap for information on the experimental artists SWAP has hosted since 2002.

ELIGIBILITY FOR SWAP

International and U.S. artists living outside Northeast Ohio are invited to apply to SWAP only if they have been nominated by one of our global partners. Artists from a 17-county area in Northeast Ohio may apply online or be nominated by local partners for the program.
